

Meet Your Teacher

Dr. Hill

TEACHING LIFE...

This is the start of my 16th school year as a high school/Early College English teacher and I've never been more excited. I love teaching and I am dedicated to helping 1st generation college students become successful. I also strive to innovate wherever I can, so expect me to tinker with many new ideas in the classroom.

MY GOALS...

"A GOAL WITHOUT A PLAN IS JUST A WISH"

1. Be innovative, organized, and creative in the classroom.
2. Help my students become exceptional lifetime learners.
3. Enjoy the learning process to its fullest.

MY EDUCATION:

I am a very proud graduate of the University of Michigan—Ann Arbor. (Go Blueeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee!!!) In 1999, I earned my Bachelors of Arts in English Literature.

In 2001 and 2003, respectively, I obtained two Masters of Arts degrees from New Mexico State University in English Literature and Curriculum & Instruction: Secondary Language Arts.

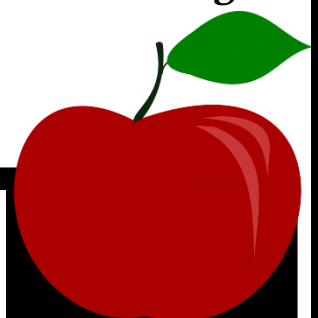

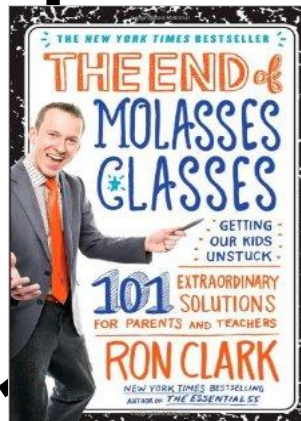

Ultimately, I received my Doctorate of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Educational Leadership through the Educational Management and Development department at NMSU. I completed my dissertation and graduated May 11, 2013.

Teacher Favorites:

- Color: Amethyst Purple
- Food: Italian & Mexican
- Snacks: Twizzlers
- Drink: Root Beer
- Book: Don Quixote
- Music: R & B/Neo Soul
- Season: Autumn
- Movie: Cadillac Records

Book Talk!

Ron Clark is all about creating teacher magic. He loves innovation and I learned amazing tips on how to transform my classroom. I am excited to try a few new things this year.

CONTACT INFO: